

Basic settings.

Settings is the app where you customize your phone to your own needs.

How to open the Settings app

Look on your home screen for a gray icon with a gear (a small wheel with teeth) — this is the Settings app. Tap it once to open it.

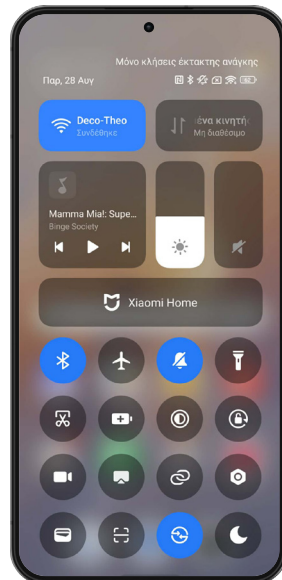

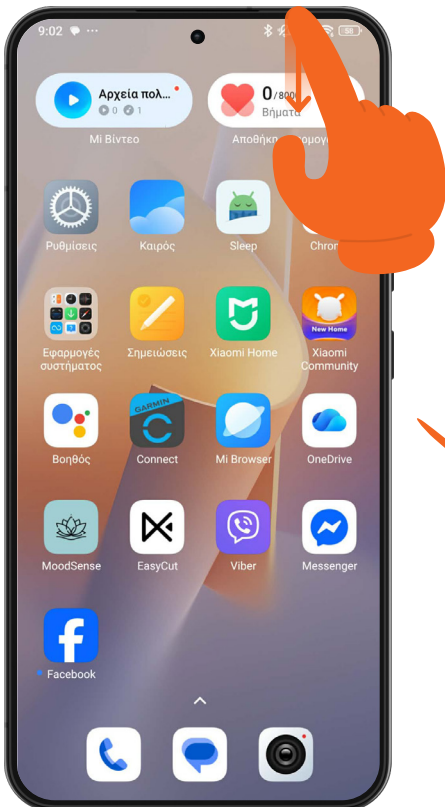

Basic settings.

Quick settings panel.

Besides the Settings app, there is also a quicker way to change the most common settings, without needing to open any app.

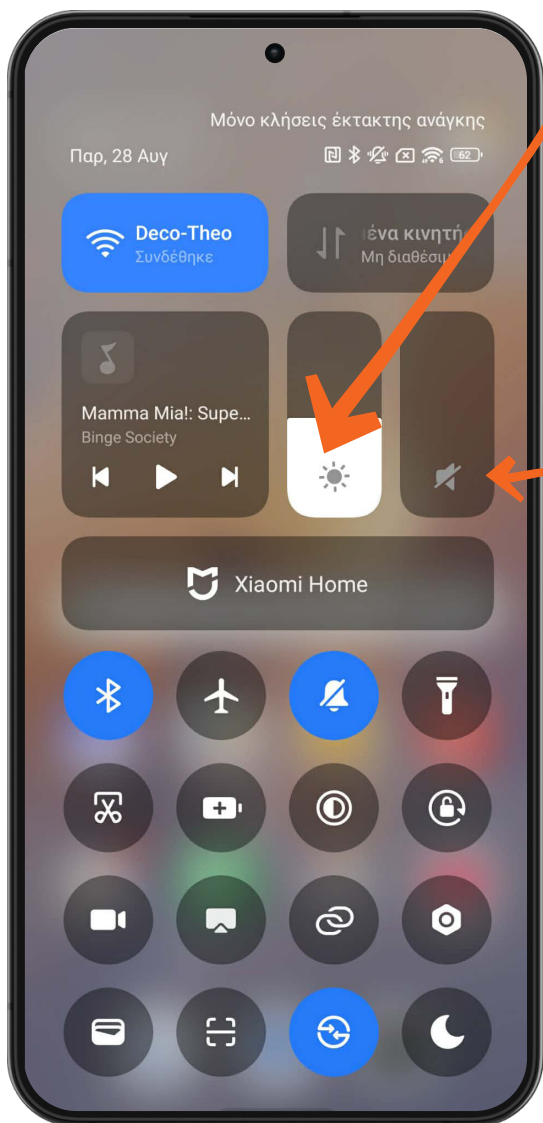

Open quick settings

Swipe your finger from the top right corner of the screen downward to open the quick settings panel.

Basic settings.

Quick settings panel.

Screen brightness

Swipe upward for a brighter screen (useful outdoors, in the sun) or downward for a darker screen (useful at night, and saves battery).

Volume

Swipe your finger upward on it for louder sound, or downward for quieter — it controls the sound for calls, videos, and notifications.

Camera

Immediately opens the Camera app, without needing to search for its icon.

Basic settings.

Quick settings panel.

Wi-Fi

Turns on or off the connection to a wireless internet network, at your home or wherever else you are.

Airplane Mode

Temporarily disables all connections: calls, messages, Wi-Fi, and data. Usually used on an airplane, when requested.

Silent Mode

Mutes call and message sounds, without deleting them.

Flashlight

Turns on the camera flash as a flashlight so you have light.

